

write and submit a 200-word essay about your influencing style strengths and weaknesses and provide an example in which you used your primary influence style effectively and a time that your primary style did not work. What style might have worked better?

Using all of the resources covered this week, select an influence style. What forms of power over the class does a professor with this style have? How can you as a student and as a class influence a professor with this style? What forms of power do you have? Post a 100-word analysis and comment on at least two other students' analyses.
