

Whilst some people are good at mathematics, many people find mathematics challenging. Learning mathematics involves a combination of understanding and procedure that depends on an understanding of the language, a prerequisite skill base, and the ability to explain your thinking.

Write a page or two on your experience with mathematics. This can be an overall sense of your experience, or else a specific experience (negative) related to work, school, or elsewhere.

*Not good at math!