

The newspapers are full of advertisements offering new cars for sale or lease. Under what circumstances would you lease instead of using regular finance? Support your answer with mathematical reasoning.