

Using the internet, research soft drinks and identify which macromolecules are present in soft drinks. Explain which, if any, have a greater presence.

Additionally, identify at least three online resources you used to help you with this activity.