

Using the internet, identify your home state's average yearly temperature. Also determine whether it's primarily dry or humid. Then identify the infections that might emerge in your state based on its climate. Summarize your research in a single paragraph. (200 WORDS)