

Now that you know more about infectious diseases, do you think the current fear of Ebola is justified? What is the best way of preventing an outbreak in the US? What is the best way of ending the current pandemic in Africa? (100 Words)

Based on what you know about antimicrobial drug resistance, what will you now do differently as a patient when you or a loved one is sick? Are you now more likely to forego antibiotics for issues like a minor earache? Or are you more concerned with getting immediate relief, regardless of any future consequences? (150 Words)